

NORTH CAROLINA CENTRAL UNIVERSITY DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RESOURCES

CAMPUS-WIDE TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT CATALOG

INTRODUCTION AND USER GUIDE

The Human Resources Training Department in partnership with a consortium of university constituents is committed to achieving a culture of excellence through learning and the creation of a learning organization.

At NCCU, we recognize that training programs and professional development improve individual and organizational performance because each helps the University achieve its overall institutional goals. Furthermore, training programs not only help employees increase their effectiveness by building and refining job skills, they also greatly enhance the level of service provided by the University.

This catalog provides an overview of the types of training that NCCU offers to faculty and staff. It includes a description for each of the workshops and programs along with information on pre-registration.

NOTE: Courses are offered and facilitated by departments throughout campus.

NOTE: Updates are made on a regular basis as received from departments respectively.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS:

The next section provides standardized descriptions for the planned courses in the curriculum, arranged by course topic. In addition to outlining course objectives, contents, and structure, each course description identifies the target audience for the course, as well as any prerequisite qualifications for those attending.

TABLE OF TOPICS:

The next section has a Table of Topics for an easy to follow presentation of the courses offered.

PeopleAdmin7 for Position Management

Classification and Compensation is a vital function within Human Resources that provides position classification and FLSA designation for SHRA and EHRA positions. The unit also establishes new positions, reclassifies existing positions, and reviews positions for level changes and salary adjustments. We organize compiled information to formulate a recommendation.

This BASIC level one-on-one PeopleAdmin 7 training will provide you with a generic overview of the interface. This training is great for people who have never used PeopleAdmin before or want to know more about its main functions and use at NCCU. This training is not too technical, and will focus on the Position Management side. It is appropriate for brand new initiators, approvers, search committee members and/or someone who has already used PeopleAdmin, but would like some additional training.

Workshops offered by Human Resources

The Equal Employment Opportunity & Diversity Fundamentals course (EEODF)

formerly referred to as the Equal Employment Opportunity Institute (EEOI), is mandatory training for state government executives, managers and supervisors that should be completed within the first year of the appointment. EEODF provides practical training in understanding roles and responsibilities in managing employees from different backgrounds and cultures, and the corresponding laws, policies, and employment practices and techniques complementing this purpose.

The EEODF curriculum consist of online and classroom requirements. The online course modules must be completed first with at least a 70% passing grade on the assessment, and then participants are granted access to register for the classroom portion of EEODF. In order to begin the process of completing the online modules, eligible participants, supervisors and managers only, should create an Extended Enterprise User account, under the Office of State Human Resources Learning Management System, via this link: <https://ncgov.csod.com> (See the attached Quick Reference Guide). If you already have an Extended Enterprise User account, please login to the system to register and complete the online modules.

EEODF is a pre-requisite for participation in the NCCU Management Development Institute (MDI), mandated supervisory training. Therefore, all portions of the EEODF (online modules, assessment and classroom training) must be completed prior to supervisors and managers being considered for participation in the MDI.
