

Sonya Harris, M.P.H.

Adjunct Professor, Psychology
PSY 2400 – Intro to Stat
7/21/15 – All Standards Met

Sonya Harris (Introductory Psychology for Psychology Students) joined the Psychology department in 2008. She teaches courses in Advanced General Psychology, Adolescence, Statistics, Psychological Measurement, and Learning. She enjoys mentoring students and encouraging them to reach their potential.

Professor Harris is currently pursuing her PhD in Educational Psychology at North Carolina State University.